Ike Hopeful on Indo-China; Eden Asks Settlement Now

'If Can't Agree, Then Quit Now'

Firmly Rejects Red Armistice Plan

GENEVA (AP) — British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden called on the Indo-China peace conference to narrow East-West differences without delay or admit failure.

The British diplomat declared the differences are both wide and deep, but he said his delegation is "still willing to attempt to resolve them."

"But if the positions remain as they are today," he said, "then it is our clear duty to say so to the world, and to admit that we have failed."

* * *

EDEN SPOKE at a semi-public session of the nine-party Indo-China conference. Despite his avowed willingness to make further efforts to reach a cease-fire, he left no doubt that he considered the outlook grim. He said the past two days of debate had deepened the differences between the West and the Communists.

He stated that there were deep and wide differences on the basic issues of supervising a cease-fire and of handling the problem of Laos and Cambodia, two of the Associated States of Indo-China.

* * *

EDEN FIRMLY rejected the Communist proposal that the Indo-China cease-fire be supervised by a four-nation commission, made up of Poland, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and Switzerland.

He repeated his own proposal that the supervisory body be made up of the five Asian countries which recently took part in the conference at Colombo, Ceylon. These were India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma and Indonesia. These countries, he said, "would form a just and impartial commission."

THREE MOODS—Army Counsel Joseph Welch is shown in businesslike, impassive and pondering moods during his verbal battle with Joe McCarthy. (AP Wirephoto.)

McCarthy Swears Army Attempted to Blackmail Him

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy swore that Army Counselor John Adams tried to blackmail him out of calling Army loyalty board members before him for questioning about Communism, "graft and corruption."

McCarthy said Adams used "a combination of salesmanship and threats" in a three hour talk at McCarthy's Washington apartment on the night of last Jan. 22.

And, McCarthy said, Adams made it "very, very clear" that if the investigation were not called off an unfavorable report about Roy Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy subcommittee, would be made public.

* * *

AT THAT TIME, McCarthy said, "they had not thought up" the charges subsequently filed against McCarthy. Cohn and Francis Carr, staff director for the subcommittee.

"I told him we just would not be blackmailed," McCarthy swore.

In swift recital of his relations with Secretary of the Army Stevens and Adams, McCarthy also testified:

1. Stevens and Adams sought to divert his subcommittee from its investigation of Reds in the Army and suggested to him at a Nov. 6 Pentagon luncheon that "there must be" Communist infiltration of the Air Force and the Navy which the subcommittee could investigate.

2. As early as last September, he urged Stevens to "lean over backwards" against giving any special consideration to G. David Schine, wealthy young consultant to the McCarthy subcommittee who faced prospective drafting into the Army.

3. Stevens, in his presence, asked Schine to pose with Stevens for a photograph at McGuire Air Base last fall. Stevens has testified he does not believe he proposed the picture —that he certainly had no recollection of it.

4. In his opinion, the Army took reprisals aganist Maj. Gen. Kirke Lawton because Lawton co-operated with McCarthy's investigations subcommittee. McCarthy said he believes Lawton, commander of Ft. Monmouth, N.J., failed to get a promotion to the permanent rank of major general because of such co-operation.

* * *

GETTING IN HIS story of receiving reports on Communist infiltration of the Army, McCarthy said he wanted to make it clear "we do have a good Army." He added that 99 per cent of the men are loyal and "willing to die in defense of their country."

McCarthy displayed before the televised hearings a large chart listing 92 names of persons he said had resorted to the fifth amendment before his subcommittee, when asked about Communist connections or sabotage. The fifth amendment says a witness may not be compelled to answer questions which might incriminate him.

Jenkins asked if all the 92 persons worked for the Army.

* * *

McCARTHY SAID "some of them worked for the government. But all of them were called before the committee because of alleged connections with people working in government."

'French Position Improved'

'Still Could Use Help From Outside'

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower said the French Union forces in Indo-China are in possibly better defensive shape than before the fall of Dien Bien Phu, but undoubtedly could be much aided by outside military help.

However, the President told his news conference he still does not believe this country should start a war.

Instead, he declared, the United States should keep its military reserves highly mobile, ready to move to any point of danger, and to continue waging the attack on Communism on a world-wide front with intellectual, economic and spiritual weapons as well as military ones.

* * *

THE PRESIDENT said this country certainly is in a truly serious situation, although he declined to accept a questioner's suggestion that it was in greater danger than ever before in history.

The greatest danger, Eisenhower said, is the possibility that Americans will look only at single conflicts and isolated battles at various places in the world, whereas the danger is world-wide and may last for 40 years regardless of the outcome of individual clashes.

He added it is his belief that the country's national security program is the right one—but he could change his mind any minute. And he certainly would change his mind, he said with emphasis, if the evidence were brought to him that he was wrong.

Eisenhower said: The French and Viet-Namese troops have had a most difficult task in holding a vast area on a defensive basis. They did not wish to mount major attacks in an effort to destroy the enemy, because in so doing they would lay waste their own peoples. As a result, the Communist forces could choose the times and places of assault.

It was difficult for the defensive commanders to be strong enough at all the places all the time, to cope with the thrusts of an elusive enemy.

Now the French have a smaller area to defend and are succeeding in concentrating some mobile forces.

Ike Firm On Trade Program

Not Backing Down, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Thursday nothing could be further from the truth than statements that he is backing away from his foreign trade program calling for a reduction of tariffs.

Eisenhower told his news conference the fact he has now asked for a simple one-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act—instead of insisting on his original request for a three-year extension with provision for a gradual 15 per cent cut in tariffs—does not mean he is abandoning the program.

The House Ways and Means Committee Thursday unanimously approved the one-year extension of the President's authority to make trade agreements with other nations. The House is likely to act on it Friday and the Senate perhaps next week.

On other matters the President had this to say at his news conference:

Communism—What he personally fears more than anything in the free world's struggle against Communism is the possibility of a failure to look the danger squarely in its broad face. Eisenhower said emphatically the United States cannot achieve its aims by military force alone.

Secret Information—Eisenhower said the loyalty and obedience to the provisions of the Constitution should be beyond question in the case of any man holding a commission as a reserve officer. He was reminded by a newsman that he said recently it was reprehensible for any Army officer or civilian to give out secret information without authorization.

Politics—The President said he still feels, on the broad ground of responsibility, that it is proper for him to endorse all Republican nominees for Congress as he did in the 1952 campaigns.

He added with a grin, however, that he imagines someone could pull something out of a hat that might be embarrassing to him.

To a round of laughter, Eisenhower added he hopes that won't happen.

Congress—As for the possibility of calling a special session of Congress after the present session adjourns, probably sometime in August, Eisenhower said he had no intention of doing so unless some unforeseen crisis develops.

Atomic Energy—Eisenhower reiterated his belief that there should be a greater interchange of atomic energy information between the U. S. and its allies. He said this country hardly can expect co-operation from the allies without being willing to provide such information.

Water Is Question Mark In North Platte Valley

Wyoming Reservoirs May Be Low Due to Small Winter Snowfall

By JACK HART
Journal Farm Writer

SCOTTSBLUFF —Agricultural prospects in the productive North Platte Valley hinge on five letters and a question mark—water?

An uncertain supply of this vital commodity directs the anxiety of the valley to the westward — where precipitation is gathered in Wyoming's mountainous watersheds for irrigation and where thunderheads congregate periodically to sprinkle the area with renewed confidence.

Apprehension in Nebraska's "Valley of the Nile" is the result of an unusually mild winter which deposited less-than-normal snowfalls in the mountains to the west. Whether sufficient water for the crop season is stored in Wyoming reservoirs is the million dollar question here at this time.

E. O. Daggett, manager of the Farmers Irrigation District at Scottsbluff, says he was encouraged during the past week by "one of the most timely rains we ever had."

* * *

BUT THE WEEK brought a pessimistic note to Gordon Storm, manager of the Pathfinder Irrigation District at Mitchell, who inspected the Wyoming watershed during that time.

"It doesn't look very good," Storm reports. "The snow is pretty well cleaned out and there's enough storage water for about one foot of water on each acre in the district."

Storm explains that this is about half the average irrigation allotment. Last year the district delivered 1.6 acre feet to its water users.

Charles Klingman, secretary of the Gering-Ft. Laramie Irrigation District at Gering, agrees that the situation "doesn't look too good" and the water supply is "awfully short."

* * *

THE WATER companies hope that with cool weather and generous rainfall in the next few weeks, the need for irrigation water can be stalled until July and August.

Pathfinder which serves 102,000 acres, and Gering-Ft. Laramie, with 55,000 acres plan to leave their systems shut down as long as possible. Daggett says he will deliver water next week to the 85,000 acres in the Farmers District.

According to Clem Wimberly, district extension agent, the water supply is "ample if used sparingly."

Crop conditions are generally good in the valley, Wimberly says. He notes that 4,000 acres of sugar beets blew out but that about three-fourths of them were replanted.

* * *

HE REPORTS that beet plantings are larger than usual this year—50,000 acres. Potato acreage is down considerably as a result of low prices last year. More beans were planted than in the past several years, he continues, and corn is taking an increasingly important place in the valley.

Banker H. D. Wells of Scottsbluff feels the outlook is optimistic. Of the threatened water shortage, he philosophizes, W"e've seen less water than this and still got a crop."

State Wheat Prospects Up Again

By the Associated Press

Nebraska's winter wheat crop prospects took a 6 million bushel jump during May, the Department of Agriculture said Thursday, bringing them up to the level forecast last December.

The monthly crop forecast called for a 70,642,000 winter wheat crop or a yield of 22 bushels per acre. This compared to a forecast of 64,220,000 bushels of a 20 bushel per acre crop forecast a month ago.

* * *

THE AGRICULTURE department forecast this year's national wheat production at about 1 billion bushels—a crop large enough to require continuance of production controls next year.

The indicated crop is at least 100 million bushels larger than prospective market needs, and hence will add to a record surplus of about 875 million bushels.

Secretary Benson is expected to announce a wheat production control program for next year's crop within the next two or three weeks.

* * *

THIS YEAR'S production was indicated to be larger than needs despite planting restrictions which cut this year's acreage about 20 per cent below last year's.

The department, in its June crop report, said a favorable growing situation took shape in May for the country as a whole.

Soil moisture supplies were said to have been largely replenished during May and most areas not adequately supplied then received early June rains.

In the main corn belt, planting of the No. 1 livestock feed grain was virtually completed by June 1.

Ike Will Speak, Ask For Support

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower will call for public support for his legislative program tonight in his first major policy speech in nearly two months.

The White House refused to give any details. But there was speculation that the chief executive might also discuss the explosive Indochina crisis and possible U.S. involvement

Mr. Eisenhower will speak before a meeting of the District of Columbia Citizens For Eisenhower Committee — a 1952 campaign organization — between 9 and 10 p.m. EDT. Most major networks planned some coverage.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon and House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass) are among the other guests scheduled to speak on tonight's program.

Equalization Board Will Reconvene Friday

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization will reconvene Friday morning after a two-day recess to hear complaints on real estate assessments.

The board was not in session Wednesday and Thurday, Chairman Chris Kuhner said, because of other responsibilities of members.

When the Board of Equalization recessed, more than 330 persons had been before it to protest assessments.

Crosby Okays Plan for Some Pay Increases

Gov. Robert Crosby approved a Board of Control plan to give selective pay increases to certain meritorious employees at the state's institutions.

This is not a blanket increase.

The probability was that starting wages would be about $20 a month higher

As an example, Chairman William Diers said that the nurse aide salary bracket ranges from $150 to $190 a month. Some institution heads have recommended that this range from $170 to $200.

These factors were emphasized by officials:

1. The raises, which will probably become effective July 1, will be along much the same lines as merit raises the board has given in the past.

2. Both the merit raises and the new starting salaries will apply to all Board of Control institutions.

Meanwhile Ted Fontaine of Lincoln, business agent for the Nebraska State Council of Public Employees (AFL), said that the starting wages at all institutions should not be less than $170 a month.

He said that since it appears that $1,494,580 is available in the Board of Control budget that "there can be no excuse on the part of board members" if wage increases are not granted.

Move Starts To Call Meet On Far East

WASHINGTON (UP)— A move was under way in the House to get President Eisenhower to call a conference of Far Eastern leaders to draft a "charter of freedom for the people of Asia."

Rep. John W. McCormack (D-Mass), author of the proposal, said the charter would help mobilize free Asia against Communism the way the famed Atlantic Charter "galvanized" the West against Nazism and Fascism in World War II.

Dulles Asks Speedy U.N. Action in Asia

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles Thursday rejected British and French arguments that the United Nations should not act on Indochina while peace negotiations with Communists are under way at Geneva.

He appealed in effect for speedy action by the U. N. Security Council to send a peace observation commission to Southeast Asia, asserting that "knowledge has never yet been an impediment to honest negotiation."

Dulles did not mention Britain and France by name but U. S. diplomats in Washington said those nations have been in the principal source of arguments which Dulles said have "little validity."

In a speech prepared for the international Rotary convention here, Dulles discussed major topics of American foreign policy with emphasis on these points:

1. Today there is perhaps "too much difference between the members of the non-Communist world." Dulles deplored the lack of unity but said it is probably inevitable in the development of common policies among free nations. He presumably referred to differences about action to save Indochina from Communist control.

2. He renewed his warning to Western Europe generally and Italy and France particularly that "there may have to be a basic shift in United States policy" unless the nations there promptly complete organization of the European Defense Community. He noted specifically that France and Italy so far have failed to ratify the treaty under which a Western European army, including German forces, would be established.

Sharply Dulles declared: "The time for unity is fast running out."

3. The first condition which must be fulfilled prior to possible American intervention in the fight against Communism in Southeast Asia is the grant of complete independence by France to the native states of Indochina. Dulles asserted, "The United States will never fight for colonialism."

4. Regarding the United States' attitude toward the rest of the world. Dulles disavowed any assumption "that we have any mandate to run the world." He said "none need fear that we shall develop an unhealthy lust for power."

In speaking of Western Europe, Dulles broadly hinted the United States would cut off military and economic aid to European nations unless swift progress is made in unifying the continent.

Findings On DeYonghe Are Awaited

Lancaster Dep. Co. Atty. Elmer Scheele said that if the County Mental Health Board finds penitentiary inmate Joseph E. DeYonghe insane, the findings will be sent to the Prison Medical Board for disposition.

If not, the youth will be arraigned in County Court on a charge of first degree murder as soon as he is adjudged medically sane by psychiatrists who previously examined him.

DeYonghe, 21 is charged with killing John M. Claussen on April 16 while the guard was eating his lunch in the penitentiary print shop. He is being held in segregation at the prison jail.

* * *

PROCEEDINGS in the case now await the health board hearing requested by the county attorney's office at the time the murder complaint was filed.

During investigation of the slaying, five psychiatrists and a psychologist had found DeYonghe to be "legally sane (knew right from wrong) but medically insane."

The doctors said that at that time he would be unable to defend himself at a trial

The hearing before the County Mental Health Board, delayed to give DeYonghe time to secure counsel, will be set soon, according to Board Chairman C. L. Clark.

Thayer 'Irregularity' Lawsuit Is Dismissed

Special to The Journal

HEBRON — The suit charging Thayer County Commissioner Harry Bryan with irregularities in office has been dismissed at the request of Kermit C. Nelson, Hebron contractor, who brought the suit.

Nelson's request was submitted just as the case was ready to go to the jury.

District Judge Stanley Bartos dismissed the case after Nelson's attorney told the court that evidence did not indicate that Bryan "profited personally" from county business transactions.

Nelson had brought the suit in January, asking Bryan's ouster for alleged misuse of county equipment and inadequate use of county funds.

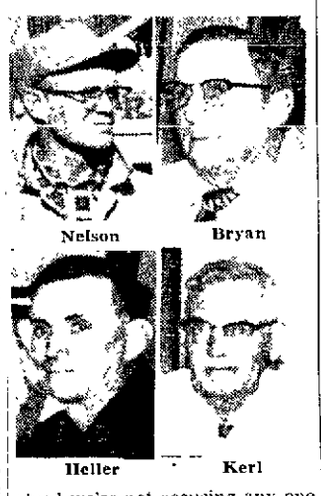

* * *

NELSON'S REQUEST further stated that "he would like to see the friction and the trouble here in Hebron and Thayer County terminate."

He said he believes that since this suit was brought and the state auditor's report given to the county clerk and County Board, the "practice that has existed in the past will cease."

The state auditor's report, filed in January, charged that the Thayer County Board of Commisisoners, composed of William Kerl, Harry Bryan and Herman Heller, had not handled certain funds in the proper manner.

At that time, Cecil Way, state accountant from the office of State Auditor Ray C. Johnson, said, "I want it clearly understood we're not accusing any one of embezzlement."

WAY SAID that the money had gone to pay Thayer County bills, but it had not gone for the specific purpose for which it had been received.

No further action has been or will be taken by the auditor's office, the office said.

Bryan's attorney, following the request of Nelson, stated that no settlement had been made outside of court.

He said, "We paid no money to Nelson or anything of that kind. We are not paying any part of the costs . . . We would have been glad to have submitted it to the jury for their consideration and decision."

FBI Asked To Identify Mutilated Man

FBI fingerprint files in Washington will be used in an effort to establish the identity of a man parts of whose body was found on the undercarriage of a freight car which arrived Wednesday at the Burlington Railroad "hump".

A left arm and other remnants of the body were discovered in Lincoln and a few hours later a railroad section crew east of Platner, Colo., found a right arm, torso, legs and head.

According to information received by Lancaster Sheriff Merle Karnopp, the head indicated the man was in his late 20s or early 30s, but outside the fact the victim had blue eyes, no additional light was shed on his identity.

Fingerprints from the arm found in Lincoln and the one discovered in Colorado will be forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation in Washington to determine if the two arms were from the same person and to identify him.

Lancaster Co. Dep. Sheriffs Robert G. Anderson and Frank Jacox said a right forearm and a small patch of scalp were found on a ear loaded with jet airplane engines.

"A strike is still imminent on the 21st, however," Cenerazzo said.

Carmody To Run for Unicameral

Simmons May Seek Seat in Senate

State Sen. Arthur Carmody of Trenton said he is not going to run for Congress from the First District.

Instead, he will file for re-election to the Unicameral. The veteran legislator is chairman of the Legislature Budget Committee.

Carmody made no secret of the fact that he had hoped to run for Congress. He said he needed financial support and it was simply "not forthcoming."

Carmody's announcement appeared to narrow the Republican race to the only candidate who has filed — Phil Weaver, Falls City automobile dealer.

* * *

IF SO, he would undoubtedly be matched against Frank Morrison, McCook attorney, who is generally conceded the Democratic nomination.

Meanwhile, Chief Justice Robert G. Simmons of the Nebraska Supreme Court scotched a rumor that he had decided not to run for the U.S. Senate.

Simmons made it clear that what he told friends was that he had not yet decided whether or not to run.

It is believed he will announce one way or the other before June 20. That is the deadline date for office holders who want to file for a different office.

One factor has been the number of attorneys who have urged him to stay on the Supreme Court.

Should Simmons resign to run for the U.S. Senate, his successor would be appointed by Gov. Robert Crosby. This would lead to an interesting political situation since Simmons would be running against Crosby, also a senatorial candidate.

27th and D Viaduct Plan Discussed

Possibility of a viaduct at 27th and D, intersecting point of the new southeast diagonal with the Rock Island, is under discussion by the city planning commission.

Eldridge Lovelace of Bartholomew & Associates will make a study of the situation.

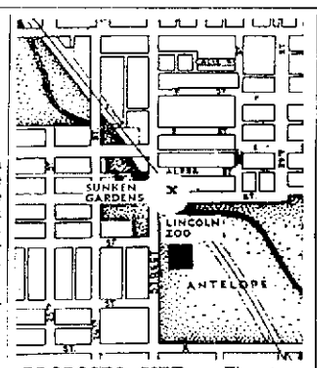

This must be settled soon if a contract on the first phase of the diagonal is to be let early in September.

The commission also discussed letting an early contract for the work from 21st to 24th, so the Board of Education may close off Randolph.

The commission recommended approval of the plat of an addition to Park Manor, a development generally extending from 58th to 63rd, A to Franklin.

Application for commercial classification at 4600 W for a trailer court was denied, also a similar application for 6300 Y. A four-family residence district was recommended for the northeast corner of 23rd and Garfield.

Sanction was given for a parking lot at 2860 Washington.

Lincoln Near Top in Pedestrian Safety

Lincoln was one of the nine safest cities for pedestrians in the United States during 1953 in the 50,000 to 100,000 population class.

This was revealed Thursday by the American Automobile Association in a special citation of Lincoln's pedestrian safety record.

That record included no fatalities and 74 injuries caused by pedestrian-vehicle collisions.

The 12 months of 1953 were part of the 19 months and 22 days, ending Feb. 18, 1954, during which Lincoln went without a pedestrian fatality.

The AAA citation came after completion of its 15th annual National Pedestrian Protection Contest. The citation certificate will be presented to the Lincoln City Council.

Contest winner in Lincoln's population class was Roanoke, Va.

In its report, the AAA pointed out 1953 was the safest year on record for pedestrians, with 8,500 fatalities in the nation. This was 100 below the previous record, in 1952.

More than 1,600 cities in 46 states were entered in the 1953 contest. Lincoln was entered by the Cornhusker Motor Club, Nebraska affiliate of the AAA.

Marshall Natives Fear H-Tests May Ruin Island Homes

By WILLIAM J. WAUGH
Second in a Series

MAJURO, Marshall Islands (AP) —There was a certain eloquence to the letter. Dwight Heine dropped it in the mailbox here April 22 and sent it winging across the 7,500 miles between these coral islands and the glass and stone headquarters of the United Nation.

The letter was signed by parliamentary representatives of the citizens of the Marshall Islands. It said:

"We feel that we must follow the dictates of our consciences to bring forth this urgent plea to the United Nations . . . we request that all the experiments with lethal weapons within this area be immediately ceased."

If these experiments are "absolutely necessary for the eventual well-being of all the people of the world," then it urged better precautionary measures and adequate compensation for uprooted citizens.

* * *

THE MARSHALL ISLANDS, scene of U. S. atomic experiments, are occupied by the United States under a trusteeship from the United Nations. With a population of 11,000, the islands are a group of low lying atolls. All residents of Bikini and Eniwetok atolls were removed from them several years ago so atomic tests could go forward.

Then, in the March 1 test of the hydrogen bomb, 45 persons on Rongelap atoll suffered radiation burns from falling ash. The 236 residents of Rongelap and Utirik atolls were evacuated on a temporary basis.

The Marshallese are scared. But after talking with them for 10 days, I feel they are most concerned lest the atomic tests force them to lose their home lagoons.

* * *

"WE LIKE the Americans," Heine declared. "We petitioned Congress with 2,000 names to have you (the United States) stay here."

He says the petition implies no lack of confidence in the trust territory government — that Americans here felt responsible for what happened March 1.

There is no question that in dealing with the unforseen trouble at Rongelap and Utrik a magnificent job was done. The next day planes landed at the affected atolls and scientists decided all natives and military personnel must be evacuated. A destroyer completed the evacuation in two days, taking the people to Kwajalein for medical assistance and maintenance.

* * *

AT THE U.N. ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. has voiced the assurance that American authorities "are doing everything possible to prevent any recurrence of possible danger."

But even that cannot restore the residents of Rongelap to their native soil for at least a year—until it is considered safe. The people of Bikini and Eniwetok may never see their atolls again, and Heine says the Bikinians have not been compensated for loss of their lagoon. How much was it worth?

"Land means a great deal to the Marshallese," says the petition to the U.N. "It means more than just a place where you can plant your food crops and build your houses; or a place where you can plant your dead. It is the very life of the people. Take away their land and their spirits go also."

Prof. Ernst to Talk At National Conference

Ernst is described as one of the best-informed men on his subject in nation by a communication from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, sponsor of the conference.

The Most Difficult Assignment

No one can read the full report on the case of Dr. Robert Oppenheimer without being impressed by the meticulous thoroughness with which three able men went into the case and reached the decisions they did. The two who recommended lifting the scientist's security clearance were obviously concerned over the possibility of injustice through faulty weighing of the evidence, and cannot be imagined as happy over the decision they had to make. Dr. Oppenheimer's sole defender wrote a minority report that might well become a classic. These three men — Gordon Gray, Thomas Alfred Morgan, Ward Evans — have undoubtedly settled a troublesome issue, one way or the other, for many citizens who wanted justice done and equally wanted their country defended, but had neither the information nor the analytical powers of the judges. The character, activities and predilections of the three are epitomized in Time Magazine under the title, "The Men Who Decided." Regardless of who is right or who is wrong, all three are shown to be well worth listening to. For the record, then:

Gordon Gray, chairman of AEC's special Personnel Security Board, was a poor little rich boy who, being twitted by a cousin, set out early to build a record money couldn't buy. A scholar and editor of the Law Journal at Yale, he has at 45 won success as a lawyer, newspaper publisher, soldier (he turned down a commission to become a GI), government official and educator. Seven years later he was made Secretary of the Army, is described as an intellectual liberal Democrat. His most recent chore he called "the most difficult assignment I ever had."

Thomas Alfred Morgan, 66, was a poor Southern boy who worked his way through high school, enlisted in the Navy — and glimpsed a new world while helping an inventor named Elmer Sperry install a new gyroscopic compas for a test. He went through the ranks of the Sperry manufactories to the presidency, expanded its field and retired in 1952. A "working" Democrat, he summed up his view of the Oppenheimer case in two sentences: "This is bigger than Dr. Oppenheimer and it is bigger than the Eisenhower administration. The question is whether you are going to have one security system for the scientist who built a bomb and another for the chauffeur who drives a congressman around Washington."

Ward Evans, 71, who presented the minority report, was a Pennsylvania farm boy who grew up to be a brilliant teacher and U.S. expert on explosives. Twice retired from university posts, he is still working in an advisory capacity in Loyola's chemistry department. He has served in a number of AEC loyalty-security cases, expressing always a strong faith in the individual and his right to make mistakes. FBI investigated him, he relates, and found that he had once caught two short trout and been arrested for it.

Two Lessons for Asia

From the Wall Street Journal:

The U.N. Security Council voted the other day to consider a request by Thailand that U.N. observers be sent to watch for indications that the Indo-China war might roll over the borders of the little Southeast Asian kingdom.

The Russian member of the Council was alone in voting against even talking about the Thai proposal, and his opposition was taken as forecasting another Red veto. Should that happen, the request will go before the General Assembly where there is no veto power. The only safe assumption to make because of these procedures is that no observers will go to Thailand for a long time.

Yet the request serves two useful purposes. One of them is that the debate will develop evidence that the rebellious Vietminh are getting support from Red China and thus support for the Communist world design.

The other purpose — and by far the most important one in our view — that here the Communists cannot cry out against Western interference in Asia. For this plea for help for an Asian country comes from Asians themselves. Thailand is friendly to the West; nevertheless it has a long history of independence and none of colonialism. Thus it has not the divisiveness of purpose that plagues so many other Asian nations and leads some of them to seek Communism as an escape.

The purpose of the Thais is to stay free and independent. They know what they want and it is not an absentee ownership by Moscow.

In bringing their case to the U.N., they have read their fellow Asiatics the first chapter in freedom's primer. The lessons are that for a people to be free they must first desire freedom, and that the way cannot be found in Communism.

The Longest Serial

Flocking through the Centennial railroad coach all day Wednesday were Nebraskans studying every map, text, picture and object typifying the development of this commonwealth from the day of the Louisiana Purchase (and earlier, where the Indians were concerned) to the crystal set, forerunner of the radio telephone, TV and a myriad gadgets.

If it is incredible that just 150 years ago this area was a vast prairie, with a highly developed Indian culture and a vast buffalo population ("the horse came to Nebraska in 1700" the labels said not once but twice, assuming that everybody knew when and whence—they didn't), almost as striking is the evidence of the telescoping of time. In the same showcase with the primitive radio were a half dozen tokens of the campaign for woman suffrage. Many a visitor who had vaguely thought, if he ever thought of it at all, that women had always voted, was surprised to note that they were fighting hard for that privilege as late as 1920. Even the leather auto license plates and driver's goggles of the same era carried less impact.

"My grandmother had one of those," was perhaps the most recurrent comment, though there was very frequently heard another, "I used to grind the coffee when I was a kid." (The coffee mill might have come back this year had prices continued to mount). Only to the youngest viewers were the flapper hat and photograph of a Charleston dancer coeval with the stone arrowheads and bone implements of the first inhabitants. It was all very provocative and absorbing, and it might be wished that this car equipped by the Nebraska Historical Society and many citizens, could be kept moving around Nebraska indefinitely.

Wars Do Not Happen, They Result

The Army-McCarthy investigation diverts attention from more genuine investigations of historic importance, which also threw a searchlight on contemporary events.

How did we get into World War II?

Thompson

The established myth is that we were forced into it by unprovoked attack. Numerous historians, notably their dean, the late Charles Beard, George Morgenstern, Charles Callan Tansill and Harry Elmer Barnes, who have cogently sought to dissipate this theory, have been, in general, vilified or given the treatment of silence.

"The final secret of Pearl Harbor," however, written by Rear Adm. Robert A. Theobald, ret., with corroborative forewords by Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel, ret., and Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey, cannot be brushed off as easily. Professional historians write from available evidence and documents. But World War II started with an attack on the American fleet, and the naval revisionists were more in the know.

Adm. Theobald, whose book received top attention in the U.S. news and World Report of April 2, accuses the late President Roosevelt, who felt it essential we join the war against Hitler, of courting the Pearl Harbor attack, stating that Roosevelt believed only such an attack could overcome American pacifism and isolationism. He claims the fleet was held in Hawaii to invite attack and exonerates Adm. Kimmel and Gen. Short of responsibility, saying they were purposely kept uninformed.

Contradictory Theses

In the May 28 issue of the same publication, Vice Adm. Frank E. Beatty, ret., former aide to the late Secretary of the Navy, Frank Knox, contradicts Theobald's thesis that Knox and the Navy anticipated Pearl Harbor. Close to the "inner circle," he asserts his certainty that he would have known if Knox had had an inkling of impending attack, and that Knox would never have sat by and tolerated it.

Beatty's answer leaves critical questions still unclarified. He is primarily concerned to defend Knox and the Navy against collusion with any "conspiracy."

But he confirms that the government's policy was to get this country into war.

". . . Prior to Dec. 7, it was evident to me, as I was reading the 'magic' messages, that we were pushing Japan into a corner, I believed it was the desire of President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill that we get into the war as they felt the allies could not win without us, and all our efforts to cause the Germans to declare war on us had failed. The conditions we imposed upon Japan . . . were so severe that we knew that nation would not accept them. We did not want her to accept them. . . . We should have known that she would react . . . All her (military) preparations . . . pointed that way."

Thus, according to Beatty, the President wanted war, didn't want the Japanese to back down, and "should have" anticipated their reactions—an unconvincing way of denying the anticipation!

A Lesson to Remember

All this is water (and blood) under bridges. But the lesson should not be ignored by the American people by way of talk of "repelling aggression."

No great conflagration ever started because some wicked dictator "chose a bright morning" to attack. War follows insoluble diplomatic stalemates. Aggressions are provoked as well as committed. Those who demand of a great power concessions not compatible with its national interest, nor necessitated by weakness, are asking for war. Which side fires the first shot is historically irrelevant.

If, for instance, the United States pursues a policy in Europe and Asia, whose success would, in the opinion of Russian leaders (whatever, their "ideology"), expose the Soviets' highly vulnerable frontiers and industrial centers, the U.S. is asking for war.

If, on the other hand, it is the purpose of the USSR to drive the United States back to the confinements of the American islands, and to support, even in these islands, hostile conspiracies, the Soviets are asking for war.

As in 1939-41, both sides are following policies that imply war. And both are befogging human minds by camouflaging war in the mantle of peace.

But great wars do not "happen." They result.

Off the Record

Falls City Journal: All the furor over monitored telephone conversations reminds us again that many phone conversations out in this country are "monitored" by other people on the party line. The other day we heard one end of a telephone conversation between two women and this was one of the remarks: "I can tell you a few things about HER. But I won't do it over the telephone. You come in."

MORE OR LESS PERSONAL

— A Chat with the EDITOR —

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is an amazing man, if only for his physical stamina. In the course of his travels which already have taken him some 150,000 miles he stopped off in Omaha just barely long enough to give a speech at the Omaha Chamber of Commerce and to shake a few hands, before taking off again in the President's plane, the Columbine, to give a speech the next morning in Seattle and then on again to San Francisco.

* * *

His Omaha talk was an interesting performance, especially in view of the fact he was speaking in the very stronghold of opposition to administration foreign policy. He spoke without a prepared text, and without notes of any sort, in a low voice, and with a very informal air. The effect was much greater than if he had had a canned speech and intoned it with all the prestige of his office in his voice. There wasn't anything especially newsworthy in his talk — very little that a newspaper could make headlines of—and since he was talking extemporaneously he avioded even discussing the delicate Indo-China situation.

Dulles In Omaha

Yet the essential message what he seemed to be trying to convey was that U.S. foreign policy today is being guided by basic and historic American principles of morality, and that its conduct is in very American hands. This was just the right kind of impression to leave with an Omaha audience and while there were no fireworks in it it seemed that the homespun Dulles performance, so different from what you might expect of a great world leader, was a very real success.

* * *

The man looked terribly tired, incidentally, and the fatigue which the pace of his job exacts seemed evident in his voice. Meeting with a few of us afterwards, he shook hands only with his left hand—his right arm, which he said he had bumped on something—hung limp at his side.

* * *

Sam Waugh of Lincoln, assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, was there. He was not accompanying Dulles on the Columbine, but had come out earlier to be on hand as pinchhitter in case Dulles' crowded schedule closed in on him. Dulles paid Waugh high tribute. He remarked that his is "one of the toughest jobs there is," and said he was "glad that for the handling of economic affairs we have a man of the vision, the abilities and the American qualities that are possessed by Sam Waugh." He added that "there is no field so difficult as that of economics, and no field in which it is so difficult to persuade the American people as to what we are tryng to do."

Tribute To Waugh

* * *

Apparently Secretary Dulles had been advised that it was necessary, coming to Nebraska, to refer to his Nebraskan predecessor as secretary of state, William Jennings Bryan. But he did it in a way that showed he knew full well Bryan had been pretty much of a flop in that job.

* * *

He said he had on his desk a small plowshare, beaten from a sword, of a sort which Bryan used to give his friends (Dulles got his from one-time Secretary of State Lansing, who got it from Bryan). He remarked that he thought he was probably as dedicated to peace as Bryan, "but we have different ways of going about it," and that "in this dangerous period, in some ways much like the period of danger in which Bryan was secretary, I hope we are more realistic about it." He recalled that on the eve of World War I Bryan had said we needn't worry about war because if war came "a million Americans would spring to arms overnight." When war came, it took a year and a half for this to happen.

* * *

Ed Pettis of the Omaha Chamber introduced Dulles as a man whose grandfather had served the State Department "under President Benjamin Franklin." It was Benjamin Harrison.

Personal Health

HOLDREGE — The following is a part of the 13 page decision handed down recently by District Judge James U. Galloway of Shreveport, La., in his ruling against fluoridation:

"We advert to the scientific evidence concerning nature, and cause of dental caries or tooth decay. It is not contagious, and cannot be transmitted from one person to another. No person or segment of the population having that condition can, on that account, have any adverse affect on the health, dental or otherwise of the general public, or any member or segment thereof. We repeat, in our opinion, this is not a matter of public health. It is strictly within the realm of the individual and personal dental health and hygiene within each person to be free to choose his own course for himself and those for whom he is responsible in the family relation. To this field the just powers of the government do not extend."

Beautiful Job

LOS ANGELES—A few days ago I received my copy of your Centennial number of The Sunday Journal and Star and was so impressed with the whole undertaking I decided I would write you and extend my warmest congratulations on the beautiful job of printing and the vast amount of research work necessary to get up such a complete coverage of events in the last one hundred years.

In addition to the compilation work necessary, the advertising display all along the line is nothing short of marvelous. The big metropolitan dailies here in L.A. have nothing on you from a mechanical standpoint. The color work on the first pages of the various sections is particularly pleasing and harmonious.

I get my Journal three days afer publication and am glad to be kept up with the news and events in Lincoln and Nebraska.

Seaton Still Waits For Subversives List

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department said it is still waiting for Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's reply to its request that he furnish "as soon as possible" the names of the 130-odd alleged communists working in defense plants.

A spokesman said Assistant Defense Secretary Fred A. Seaton has had no answer yet to his letter of June 3 in which he told the Wisconsin Republican that "I can meet you or any representative of yours at any time" to receive the list.

The matter of the alleged subversives had been injected into the Army-McCarthy hearings several times and on June 2 the special subcommittee recommended that McCarthy turn over the list to the Defense Department.

Chest Discusses Belmont Program

Representatives of the program committee of the Lincoln Community Chest discussed next year's program, beginning in the fall, with members of the Belmont Community Center board of directors at the board's monthly meeting.

Chest representatives present included Mrs. Fred Akin, W. E. Haydon, chairman of the chest's budget committee, and Jack Coyle.

Chester Dill, director of the center, in his monthly report, said 2,297 persons had used the center during May, mostly for outdoor activity.

Reports were heard on the new building fund drive.

Martin Drops Senate Campaign Temporarily

KEARNEY, Neb. (AP) — David T. Martin of Kearney has taken time out from his U.S. Senate campaign for a trip to New Hampshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin and their son, John, left for Hannover, N. H., to attend the 25th reunion of Martin's Dartmouth graduating class and the graduation of their eldest son, David K. Martin, from Dartmouth. Their daughter, Patricia, who is a freshman at Colby College, Waterville, Me., was to join them in Hannover Martin said. The entire family will join him in a campaign tour around Nebraska in his bid for the Republican nomination to the Senate. The tour will take about four weeks.

City Asked to Pay For Injury in Jail

Harvey W Reehle has filed a claim against the city for hospital expense and loss of time resulting from an injury sustained while he was serving time in the city jail.

Counsel states that Reehle was required to paint in the jail kitchen. His hand became caught in a ventilating fan and the cut required eight stitches.

He lists hospital expense at $7.50 and estimated loss of time at one month. Public Safety Director Emmett Junge was informed that Reehle was working out his fine as trusty when the accident occured.

Chappell Girl Will Represent Nebraska

Visits to Philadelphia, Albany, West Point and Hyde Park are included in the 16-day conference.

Background of the News

Tangier Isn't Naughty Any More

By GEORGE WELLER
Lincoln Journal - Chicago Daily News Foreign Service

TANGIER. — The big boom in the international city of Tangier has collapsed. The would-be successor to Suez as the "wickedest city in the world" is still rich, but Tangier isn't naughty any more.

Weller

With its huge white apartment houses vacant and its cabarets barely alive, Tangier looks something like Florida after the bursting of the early real estate bubble.

The empty eyes of five or six hundred apartments stare from the hilly town at the blue green bay, waiting for occupants, who, apparently will never come while Europe stays prosperous. Tangier is an offbeat town. When things are good elsewhere, Tangier has to scratch.

* * *

THE SMUGGLERS, many of them American and British, who ran neat little packaged cargoes of cigarettes, nylons, aureomycin, perfume and penicillin into France, Spain and Italy, have sold their speedy cruisers and souped-up schooners and departed.

A sentimentalist of the good-old, bad-old days spent $600 this week to buy the 1949 Cadillac convertible that belonged to Sid Paley, the American pirate of Tangier. Paley was found guilty of trying to steal a whole ship, and sentenced to three years, suspended on condition that he return to the United States.

The other famous Yankee operators, mostly Italo-Americans like "Mister" Miranda and Antonelli, has vanished. The bar Venezia, which was linked in gossip to "Lucky" Luciano's purported dope activities out of Naples, is having a hard time. Capt. McQueen, another famous character of the naughty-but-nice days, moons around the waterfront — nothing to do.

* * *

WHAT SEEMS to have licked Tangier as a smuggling center is the competition of Gibraltar, plus the use of all Spain as a smuggling warehouse, plus the stiffened coast guards of France and Italy.

"What's the use of trying to compete with Spain, where you can get American cigarettes under the counter now for 15 cents a package?" asked one gloomy ex-smuggler.

The main racket is now housing, in the crazy economy of this city of 100,000 Moroccans, with 30,000 Spaniards, 5,000 French, and a couple of thousand Americans and British. Two Americans prudently tend their own bar at a place called "The Parade," now eight years alive.

You can still go to a night club and see a troupe of living statues, three Danish dancers, two girls and a man, clothed in gold leaf and practically nothing else. The lid is still off, but the steam is gone.

* * *

TO KNOW TANGIER today, you have to dip into real estate. Since all the Western European currencies became stable, even the exchange business has flopped. There isn't enough difference left between black market and official exchanges to make money smuggling worthwhile.

But the money still pours into Tangier's banks.

Tangier has become a private Fort Knox for the fortunes of industrialists frightened of either the Communists or their own government's tax collectors. The groaning banks embalm their deposits in "passive" empty flats.

* * *

TANGIER IS the dugout where Europe's wealthy hope to sit out coming troubles. They own the empty villas, built to keep their money in real property, kept nominally on the rental market, but not actually intended to be hired. A Belgian millionaire has a duplicate of his Paris villa, ready to take the same furniture.

"I can pay up to $350 a month," offered an American official, after seeing a "For Rent" sign on a villa. "I'll see," said the agent for the wealthy Parisian owner. Four days later he was back with the price: $600.

The next two Americans who asked about the same place were told that it was $800, then $1,000 a month.

A square foot of land is $60 — three months' wages for a Moroccan.

* * *

EUROPE'S WEALTHY park their millions here in Tangier. There is no income tax. They lose nothing but the depreciation of the villa itself, there being almost no real estate tax. Tangier lives largely from a mild 13.5 per cent duty on imports.

The hundreds of vacant apartments are owned by the special Moroccan aristocracy, who are better situated than the European millionaires, though not quite so affluent. They are old Jewish families from the Moroccan trading companies who enjoy special American privileges as "proteges" or "protected persons."

These strange quasi-Americans, the clans of Toledano, Pinto, Maman, Bergel, Bendayan, Korait and Abitbol, are the elite of a community of 15,000 prosperous Jews. They have bet their fortunes on building more and more apartment houses, sure that the U.S. with its Mediterranean fleet and four air bases in Morocco will again take care of little Tangier in the next war.

ROBERT S. ALLEN Reports

A Stockpile of Arms for Germany

WASHINGTON — The U.S. is well on the way to completing a $250,000,000 stockpile of arms for West Germany.

Allen

Most of the equipment, which includes jet planes, tanks and artillery of all types, is being procured in this country with funds from the foreign military aid budget. The huge stockpile is reaching a point where it is causing storage difficulties.

Purpose of these weapons is to start creating this year twelve West German divisions regardless of what France and Italy do on the long-stalled European Defense Community pact.

Legislation to clear the way for this momentous step is already being privately considered in Congress.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee has discussed the matter several times. It was at one of these closed-door sessions that Maj. Gen. George Stewart, director of the military assistance program, disclosed the existence of the unannounced $250,000,000 stockpile to rearm Germany.

He said it is the urgent desire of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to start doing that as soon as possible either under or outside EDC.

EXPENSIVE GEAR — Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, head of the Health, Education and Welfare Department, is headed for a rebuke by the House Appropriations Committee.

In a forthcoming report, the economy-minded Committee will reprimand her for not cutting expenses. The report will say, "The Committee sought in vain for any economies in the administration of this agency. Instead, we found administrative expenses for 1954 are actually higher than those for 1953."

One reason for the Committee's ire was the discovery that she spent $100,000 for a moving picture room in her office.

Furnishing and decorating the 30' by 18' chamber cost $16,000 and projection and other equipment another $84,000. Rep. John Taber (R-NY), committee chairman, personally criticized Mrs. Hobby at a private session.

"I am astonished at this expenditure," he told her, "particularly in view of the fact that a number of items for health, welfare and educational projects were cut at your request. Yet in the face of those reductions, you went ahead and spent $100,000 for this kind of luxury in your own office."

THE ONCE OVER By H. I. Phillips

Baccalaureate for 1954

Gentlemen of the Class of 1954: The world is calling for you, and it will probably develop into a televised proceeding. Never before has there been such a demand for young men. The reason is clear. All the older ones have either lost out through monitored phone calls or proxy fights. This is a strange age . . . and I think I hear you whispering, "You're telling US!" There was a time when a boy graduating from college had determined his goal and charted his course. Today, the goal posts are on a revolving floor and it is hard to tell a chart from an Arthur Murray dancing routine.

Phillips

* *

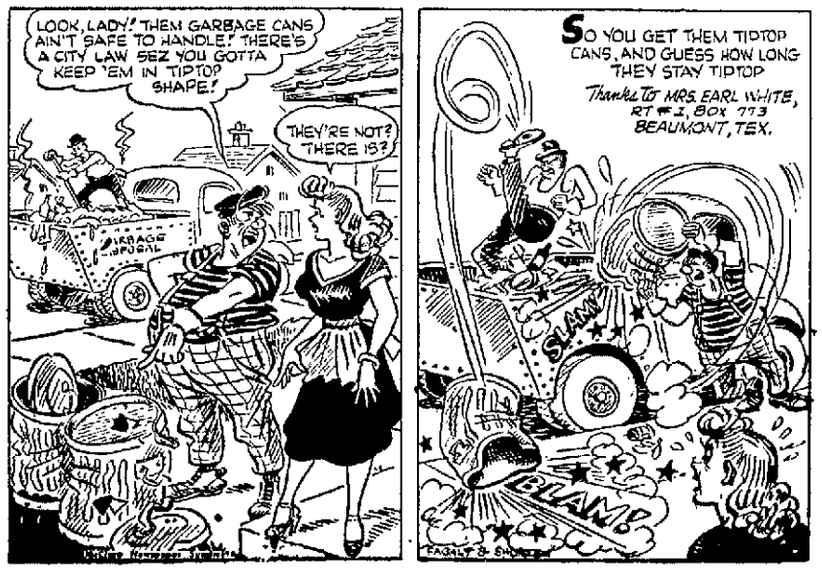

Your fathers knew what they were preparing themselves for. You go forth uncertain whether it's war, a nonstop argument with the neighbors, a subpoena, a character test or an order to come in Tuesday and bring a transcript of the telephone talks. Your fathers left the campus asking, "How can I miss?" You can only ask, "Who's counting at the knockdowns?" Once the world asked the young grad, "Are you all set to make a living?" Today, the question has been complicated by amendments, a list of new rules, extra questionaires from federal agencies and a clear warning that if you succeed the tax bite will floor you. Once the graduate packed his tennis racquets, golf clubs and set forth with some prospect of marrying the tycoon's daughter. Now the tycoon has just lost control of his railroad and his daughter is in the WACs or WAVES.

* * *

In bygone years the road ahead was visible through bifocals. Today, you have to find it by comparing the $100-a-plate dinner speeches of Adlai Stevenson and Dick Nixon. Can there be any greater fog banks? Once you were all set if you could do nine holes in 40, wear a dinner jacket well and get a canoe back to the shore in a squall. Today, you can get summoned before a Senate committee for doing any of these things. Gentlemen, you came here green, baffled and apprehensive. In departing you can scratch the word "green." That's something, my lads. Lest I seem too cynical let me say, however, there are doors of opportunity open, if you can do a comedy routine, deliver a pitch for a miracle-tip or do well on a TV panel or quiz show. I hope that your college years have equipped you to look good on Talent Scouts, Strike It Rich or Welcome Traveler. Years ago if a law firm chose you as junior clerk you were lucky to get $3,000 a year. You can knock down that much today identifying "Auld Lang Syne," rolling an egg across a TV studio with your nose, or properly unscrambling the words "gold that all not is glitters." And so, I bid you luck. You will need it. In closing let me deny the rumor that if you don't make good you return here and get your money back. Farewell and best wishes!

Equalization Job Nearly Done

Richardson to Cut State Figures 'Trifle'

County boards in southeastern Nebraska are rapidly approaching completion of equalization of assessments for this year

The big question this year is whether the counties will hold to the line set by the State Board of Equalization last year

In a sweeping state-wide equalization the state board made blanket raises on real estate valuations in many counties

Richardson County already has announced it will cut valuations below the level set by the state board

Richardson County Clerk Henry Bruhn said, however, the cut will be "just a trifle"

* * *

HE SAID an appraisal showed the state's figures on Richardson County's valuations slightly higher than the average in the state He said the percentage of cut and whether it would be on city or farm valuations or both has not yet been determined

The only other bold indication of a county defying the state board was in Johnson County, essentially the place where it all started

Johnson County Clerk L E. Yeast said a comparison by the county commissioners of Johnson County valuations with others set by the state board found Johnson County farm valuations "a little high" He said, "There is some talk of making a reduction"

The suit brought against the State Board of Equalization which resulted in the state-wide equalization last year was originated by L E Laflin, Johnson County landowner Laflin contended the average farmland assessment in Johnson County was higher than anywhere else in the state

COMMENTS from other southeast Nebraska counties

Gage County Assessor Mr Ruth Wiebe said the board is in the process of making its comparison of Gage County valuations against others in the state and sampling taxpayers opinions

Nemaha County The commissioners haven't indicated yet what they will do" County Clerk Clark Dort said, but they feel what they have here (the state board's figures) is about right"

Otoe County The county board was "just starting out to do a little investigating," Clerk Lucian Smith said "If the state allows them (other counties) to cut (their valuations) naturally we'll have to cut them here too"

Seward County Clerk George King said no comparisons had been made, but there were indications any adjustments would be made in the figures set by the Board of Equalization

Motel Owner, City Tangle Over Detour

NORTH PLATTE (AP) — The city and Mrs Sam Diedricks tangled over a Highway 30 detour past the motel she and her husband run and Mrs Diedricks, as she wanted it to be, was arrested

The city is putting in a water main across 30 and the detour that goes by the Diedricks Motel is a dusty one and traffic now is heavy It was the dust that irked Mrs Diedricks who claimed it was ruining business Besides she asserted the city had taken part of her right of way

So she parked a truck on what she claimed was her property—it took up about a third of the street—then tied herself to the truck and asked for arrest She was arrested on a technical charge of interference" with an officer and released on bond

Diedricks who became ill during the day, is a former Lincoln County district attorney

SAC Could Devastate Russia 'in Two Days'

'Reds Could Not Stop Gen. LeMay'

NEW YORK (AP) — The U S Strategic Air Command stands ready to devastate the Soviet Union in an all-out two-day attack the Russians would be unable to stop, Life magazine reports

In an article on Gen Curtis E LeMay, commander of SAC, and the airmen in his command, Life said he is 'the toughest air soldier the world has ever known"

The SAC is the command in which the nation's atom bombers fly and LeMay's officers believe an air war would not last more than two days Life said

There is no doubt whatever among SAC's staff that SAC as it stands today could completely devastate Russia and have by far the majority of its crews return to tell the tale" said the article written by Ernest Havemann

LeMay and his staff see their job as one of keeping SAC so efficient and strong that it will never have to be tested, Life said Under LeMay it said, the SAC is in a constant state of readiness

'The airmen of SAC have their bags packed" Life said "Even in their off hours they can always be reached . . "

"In their day-to-day training these men do everything but drop an actual bomb They fly missions that last as long as 40 hours They travel a distance as far from Texas to the heart of Russia and back"

The command is headquartered at Offutt Air Force Base near Omaha

Dulles Explains Peace Insurance

OMAHA (AP) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said the Strategic Air Command as a weapon of massive retaliation is 'the best peace insurance that we have"

Dulles, speaking at a Chamber of Commerce public affairs dinner here, said "It is foolish not to recognize that we live in a dangerous period" He said "We must have a capacity for massive retaliation as our best defense . . . against the Soviet Union

Turning to Gen Curtis LeMay, commander of SAC, Dulles said 'What I m talking about is personified by Gen LeMay"

He said there had been some criticism and misinterpretation of his 'massive retaliation" statement

'But I didn't hear anybody say they didn't want that protection" he said

Dulles told some 450 persons at the dinner that whatever we do in relation to Indo-China' or other international problems, should be based on moral principles which make it "worthwhile to make the sacrifice

'It is terribly important to stick to principles" he said They made America strong'

He said he could not talk in any detail about Indo-China because the situation was 'extremely delicate and I don't want to trust myself in an unprepared, off-the-cuff statement'

"An awkwardly expressed word" he said, 'could cause repercussions"

Gillett Will Try to Determine Whether Holloway Is Democrat

On June 21 at 10 a m. Election Commissioner Harold Gillett will undertake to determine whether, under the statutory definition of party member, Myles Holloway is a Democrat

The former Republican sheriff now resident of the Malcolm community, recently filed as a Democratic candidate for sheriff A protest, by a Democrat, has been filed and the hearing arranged

The right of Holloway or any other prospective candidate to switch parties apparently bucks into an election law provision regarding notice of such change Gerald J Farrell of Lincoln filed protest in writing in which he alleges Holloway is not a party follower in the sense as to legally become a candidate of that party. Farrell, who lives at 5628 Hartley, said he has taken action as an 'interested Democratic voter"

* * *

HE CONTENDS that Holloway failed to file a written statement, under oath with the election commissioner, 30 days before filing application as a candidate, declaring it his intent to change affiliation

The protest was filed by Atty Fred J. Cassidy, a Democrat, in behalf of Farrell

Holloway is the only one to date to file as a Democratic candidate for sheriff No Republicans have yet filed

A candidate must under the law be an elector of the party named in his application An elector of one party desiring to affiliate with another party in order to become a candidate must give the required change of heart notice by filing a sworn affidavit

* * *

IF HE LIVES where registration is required, he may make such announcement through registration processes at the proper time Malcolm is without registration therefore the sworn statement route seems to apply.

The law requires a hearing, upon protest, before the filing official (election commissioner) who shall pass upon validity of the filing unless some court takes jurisdiction

Holloway voted in the Republican primary in 1952, last occasion for a declaration on the party subject He is understood to take the position that a man has the right to choose his party

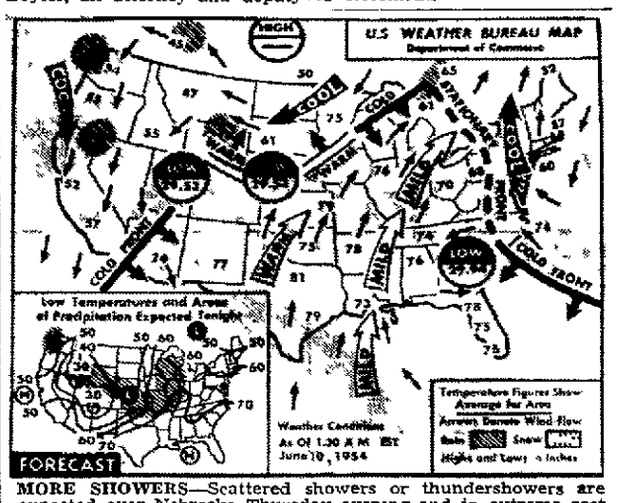

Gillett has never before confronted a situation of this sort He has the counsel of Pat Boyles, an attorney and deputy election commissioner, and indicated that he may ask the county attorney to assist at the hearing

Joseph Ginsburg, chairman of the democratic county central committee said

"I assume Holloway is acting in good faith"

Hastings Trucker Hurt

Ike's Tax Program Accepted

Income Levy Cut Losing Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Finance Committee action giving President Eisenhower just about what he asked for in tax changes dimmed the prospects of victory for a Democratic-planned floor fight to tack on an income tax cut.

Finishing its work on the 875-page tax revision bill Wednesday night after six weeks of secret deliberations, the group accepted nearly all of the benefits for corporation and individuals sought by the administration. These would amount to about $1,400,080,000 in tax cuts in the first year.

Democrats on the committee did not even offer their proposal for a big reduction in personal income taxes by a boost in exemptions. It had become obvious the committee would reject such a move.

The Senate rarely upsets the Finance committee on tax legislation. Nonetheless, the senior Democratic committee member, Frear of Delaware, told newsmen they planned to fight the issue out on the Senate floor.

Other informants said the Democrats might center their floor battle on a new plan providing a $20 tax cut for each taxpayer on his return, taken as a final step after he had figured his tax.

Sen. George (D-Ga) actually offered this in committee last week as a substitute for a provision giving substantial relief to stockholders on their dividend income, but lost 10-4.

The revenue loss from the $20 plan would be about 850 million annually under George's estimate; committee staff officials said it might reach $1,400,000,000 a year.

Either would be much less than the original plan calling for a 4½-billion-dollar income tax cut in 1954 by raising exemptions $200 and a $7,800,000,000 reduction from 1955 on through a $400 exemption hike.

Principal benefits in the House bill retained by the Senate committee, besides the one to aid stockholders, include: accelerated depreciation allowances for corporations and individuals, increased deductions for medical expenses, an increased exemption of retirement income, permission to farmers to deduct soil conservation expenses, an increase in charitable deductions, permission to fathers to keep the $600 exemption on a child under 19 or going to college even though the dependent earns more than $600 a year, and permission to single heads of families to use the same income-splitting privilege now granted married couples.

Belmont Center Fund Total Nearly $20,000

Nearly $20,000 of the $50,000 goal has been raised in the Belmont Community Center fund drive, according to campaign officials.

At a Rotary meeting, $282 was collected.

The proposed site of the new building and facilities is between Lewis and 12th on Judson.

Bird Breaks Down, Gives Judge 'Word'

POSADAS, Argentina (UP) — A parrot which refused for 10 days to be a "stool pigeon" broke down Tuesday night and won its release from court custody.

The bird had been claimed by two families. One said it spoke Guarani Indian language, the other that it spoke pure Castilian. The bird remained mum throughout the court hearing.

The judge ordered the parrot held in court custody until it spoke. Tuesday night it talked—Guarani.

Four Children Perish in Fire

LACONA, N. Y. (AP)—Four young brothers and sisters perished early Thursday in a fire that trapped them in their second-floor bedrooms.

Six members of the family escaped, two by leaping from a porch roof.

The dead, all children of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Williams, were Gerrit, 7, David Lee, 5, and two girls, Jessalyn, 4, and Melodie Ann, 2.

Gore Prefers Jail to Revealing Names

SAUK CITY, Wis. (UP)—Editor Leroy Gore was ready today to live up to his promise that he will go to jail rather than reveal who signed petitions to recall Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy.

Gore stuck by his guns after Dist. Atty. Harlan Kelley issued a subpena for the recall petitions of the editor's ill-fated "Joe Must Go" movement Wednesday.

Hundreds of the petition signers "were promised their names would not be revealed and I have no choice," Gore said.

"If I am ordered to jail I will go. But I will never give up those petitions."

Gore spirited about 360,000 petitions out of Wisconsin after his anti-McCarthy drive failed Saturday. He had been trying to gather more than 403,000 signatures to make McCarthy run again for his Senate seat.

The weekly newspaper editor said he got the petitions out of Wisconsin because he expected Kelley to demand them. In earlier statements Gore has said he is determined to protect the signers from McCarthy's "terrible revenge."

"If he doesn't produce them he's in contempt of court," Gore said.

The district attorney said he decided to subpena the petitions to discover what Gore is "trying to hide" by getting them out of the state.

Lincoln Marine Air Reserves To Maneuver in Carolina

Fifty-three members of VMF-113, Marine reserve fighter squadron at Lincoln Naval Air Station, will attend summer maneuvers, designated "Operation Alert," at Cherry Point, N. C., July 17-31

Lt. Col. H. B. Calahan, commander of Lincoln's Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment, will head the advance detail making preparations for the maneuvers.

Calahan and nine members of the detachment will leave July 3 for Cherry Point.

The members of the reserve squadron will go to Cherry Point by airlift from Lincoln.

The North Carolina exercises will be the second participation in large scale maneuvers for the Marine Air Reserve since the outbreak of the Korean War. The first "Operation Alert" training was staged last summer at El Toro, Calif.

Since the Naval Air Station was reactivated in the summer of 1949, VMF-113 has held five annual maneuvers. Three were at the home station in Lincoln, one at Cherry Point and the last at El Toro.

Seventeen members of the present squadron were among the original reserves who formed the squadron reserves who formed the squadron in 1949 in Lincoln.

Maj. Morgan C. Webb III of Lincoln is commanding officer of VMF-113.

Beatrice Foe For Optimists

Lincoln's unbeaten Optimist Legion baseball club uncovered another top pitcher Wednesday at Tecumseh

Dick Welch, a 14-year-old flinger, held host Tecumseh to five hits while his mates picked up seven and a 6-1 victory

It was the fourth straight for the Optimists They play Beatrice at Sherman Field today, the game starting at 5 30 p m

Welch was replaced by Bill Bergstraesser to give the latter a workout, but the young moundsman fanned nine and held Tecumseh in check during his stint on the hill The only Tecumseh run came in the first on a hit by Bob McCoy, an error, a passed ball and Virgil Wright's single.

Lincoln got one run in the first and put the game on ice in the third with another

Power Golf

Firm Grip, Wide Stance Aid Golfers

Rear view above shows the club being started back by the winding up of my hips shoulders, arms and hands with no attempt being made to break the wrists The illustartion reveals that my body is still winding up for a power shot There is full extention of the arms and hands The head remains stationary through backswing and down swing

The stance is now considerably wider than it ever was The purpose is to create greater traction with the feet. The widened stance and increased traction anchors one so that additional power can be applied to the swing through the legs while still maintaining perfect balance.

Golfers now grip the clubs more firmly than they have ever been gripped This enables one to hit with greater authority and at the same time maintain complete control of the clubhead

Bruins Continue Winning Streak

By United Press

Des Moines never beaten until the last man is out, snatched its sixth straight victory 7-6 from Pueblo Wednesday night because of a wild pitch

But the Bruins did not gain on Denver and Lincoln, as the Western league leaders beat Omaha, 10-7 and Lincoln trimmed Colorado Springs twice Wichita statistically rose to a sixth-place tie with Pueblo by taking its third straight over Sioux City, 5-0 The Indians had been no higher than seventh heretofore this season

ARMANDO SUAREZ worked seven innings for Pueblo allowing no hits other than Jim Gentile's first inning home run He sported a 6-1 lead going into the eighth inning but then loaded the bases and served up another home run ball to McDaniel Relief pitcher Roger Craig walked two batters in the ninth with one out and gave way to Jack Ceplo

Burdette Thurlby singled off Ceplo to drive in the tying run, and Bob Speake was intentionally passed to get to McDaniel The perilous strategy paid off with with a strikeout But with a one-and-one count on Les Peden, Ceplo threw too low

The ball bounced into the backstop and Solly Drake, who made first on four balls came home with the winning run

Chuck Churn was chased from the box in the seventh inning by Bill Hopkins four run homer, but Loyal Bloxam cut down the Cardinals at that point to give Churn his second victory for Denver

Lefthander Don Orwiler was in five-hit form for Wichita as the Indians, losers of many close decisions this season but spiritedly determined to get out of the hole, defeated Sioux City for the sixth straight time this year Orwiler's only anxious moment came with two on and none out in the eighth but he coaxed the next three batters into grounding out

NORTH PLATTE — Johnny Mathes collected a homerun a double and two singles for five runs batted in to lead North Platte to its first win in the Nebraska Independent League by downing Superior 11 6 Wednesday night

Journal Sports Writer

Lincoln's days of bewilderment against the Western League's sixth seventh and eighth place clubs are over

The Chiefs who have been battling Pueblo, Colorado Springs and Wichita for the past couple of weeks, now run smack into pennant minded Omaha for four straight games at Sherman Field and then bus to Denver for five games in three days

While Skipper Whitey Wietelmann's crew finally pulled out of the doldrums to sweep the three-games series against Colorado Springs, it will take top notch play to stand off the improved Cardinals Lincoln won Wednesday, 9 6 and 8-0

The first Omaha game will be tonight at 8 with Tom Keating pitching for the Chiefs

* * *

LINCOLN has purchased a shortstop who will join the team Sunday It is another move by General Manager Bill Herring to strengthen the team for the pennant race

Mel Rue, 29-year-old infielder, is coming to Lincoln from Macon of the Class A Sally League He has had experience in Double A and Triple A ball

Not an exceptional hitter, he hit 251 with Macon last year, Rue is an outstanding leadoff man, capable of getting on base a lot of the time In 132 games last year he walked 118 times He also had 19 dolubles and three triples

Both Rue and Jack Concannon will probably be kept by the Chiefs Concannon has been with the team a week and has impressed it with his fielding

* * *

LINCOLN TOOK both ends of a doubleheader with the Springs Wednesday night with Andy Bush master craftsman of the Western League, pitching his 10th victory of the year in the nightcap 8-0 after the Chiefs had wobbled to a 9-6 win in the opener

The rained out game Tuesday did not affect Andy's efficiency on the mound but it did give Omaha a break in that the Cards will not have to face Andy in this series unless he is ready to work Sunday afternoon.

It was a 5-hitter for Andy as he tied the league's record for consecutive victories at nine It was his fourth win of the year over the Sky Sox and he never was in trouble

* * *

HIS MATES made sure of that by scoring five times in the first inning and three more in the third

In the first singles by Billy Smith, Fred Hancock and Johnny Jones, a walk to Red McQuillan, Tom Neill's single, Walt Linden's double and Jack Concannon's single added up to five big tallies Plenty for Bush

But to insure things a couple of Sky Sox errors along with a walk and hits by Concannon, Bush and Hancock netted three more in the third

That was the ball game

It put the Chiefs within a game and a half of Denver and a game and a half ahead of Des Moines Omaha is fourth, three lengths back of the Chiefs

* * *

THE FIRST game came much harder

After building up a 5-0 lead in the first two innings, the home crowd of 1 895 watched Noel Oquendo and Charley Griffith sag and let the Sox tie it up

But Lincoln had Rog Wright in the bullpen and the steady reliefer came in to put out the fire and chalk up his fourth win against a like number of defeats

Lincoln broke the tie with a run in the fourth on Smith's single, his theft of second and Hancock's line drive single to center

To ice things the Wietelmann squad posted three runs in the sixth of the seven inning contest which took 2 14 to play

Bush's double, two walks, an error and Andy Anderson's single added up to the runs

* * *

THREE Lincoln runs had scored in the first on Anderson's three-run homer over the right field wall

The second two were made in the second without a base hit but with the aid of three Springs' errors and two walks

Oquendo had to retire at the end of the third with a bad finger blister Griffith came on but was mauled for three walks and a double before Whitey got Wright ready

* * *

CLUBHOUSE CHATTER — Thursday night will be Ladies Night at Sherman Field Jack Concannon made a great catch of Doug Cossey's liner to save trouble in the sixth inning of the first game . The first four innings of the first game took an hour and a half to play . Lincoln continued to show a return to batting form with 20 hits in the twin bill . Andy Bush went hunting Tuesday night and got another rabbit He put the ears on the clubhouse door to replace those pulled down by Norm Brown before he got his victory Monday night After the Omaha series

WRIGHT—Right

Lincoln will have only three days at home in the month of June The coming road trip will be rugged with 12 games in eight days

LINCOLN 1, NEB THURSDAY, JUNE 10, 1954—P M

Leo, Giel All Smiles Over Pact

MILWAUKEE Wis (AP) — New York Giants Mgr Leo Durocher was all smiles Thursday about his latest acquisition, Pitcher Paul Giel, and immediately said he had the trait which "made all great Giant pitchers"

'He has a low fast ball" Durocher said 'You've got to have that in the Polo Grounds because of those short foul lines"

Giel, University of Minnesota two-time all American halfback and baseball star, signed with the Giants Wednesday for a bonus "in excess of $50,000"

'We don't give out figures" said Giants President Horace Stoneham in Milwaukee for the signing 'But you can say in excess of $50,000 conservatively"

Giel, the 21-year-old pitcher who gained more collegiate fame in football than baseball as the Big Ten's top halfback, had been sought by several professional grid teams but he said he made up his mind some time ago to play baseball

'I decided on baseball a long time ago,' he said "although a couple of Canadian football teams made me such good offers I had to consider them I have no regrets about leaving football, you can play both"

Aches Gone, Keegan Wins

White Sox' Gamble on Vet Pays With Another Victory

By BEN PHLEGAR
Sports Writer

After being mired in the minors for seven years with an aching arm, pitcher Bob Keegan leads the American League in victories today because Manager Paul Richards told him to get his arm sore in January instead of June

The big right hander won his ninth game for the first place Chicago White Sox Wednesday night 9-4 over Philadelphia He's been beaten only once

Keegan a sinker ball artist is hitting his prime just two months shy of his 33rd birthday and in his second season in the majors

The White Sox grabbed him out of the International League where he won 20 and lost 11 for Syracuse in 1951 The New York Yankees who had owned him for six minor league seasons, had given up on his sore arm

Keegan developed his usual sore arm last spring but finished strong, winning seven and losing five

Last winter Richards ordered him to go to work in the gym Keegan developed his old ache but it was gone and Keegan was fit and ready when the season opened

He has started 11 games finished nine of them and has a fine earned run average of 2 27 in 99 innings He's beaten every team in the league except the Yankees at least once So far he hasn't faced the Yankees although he's sure to get a chance this weekend when the White Sox invade New York for four games

The triumph in Philadelphia which included home runs by Johnny Groth Chico Carrasquel and Sherm Lollar enabled Chicago to hold its one game lead over the Cleveland Indians who shaded Washington 1 0 New York defeated Detroit 5 1 Boston beat Baltimore 7 6

The New York Giants tied Brooklyn for first place in the National League as Johnny Antonelli shut out Milwaukee 4 0 while St Louis tripped Brooklyn 3 0 Philadelphia won a pair from Chicago 4 0 and 14 6 Cincinnati edged Pittsburgh 4 3 on four home runs

The Dodgers folded before the southpaw slants of Harvey Haddix, who joined Keegan as the only nine game winners in the majors He gave up only three hits

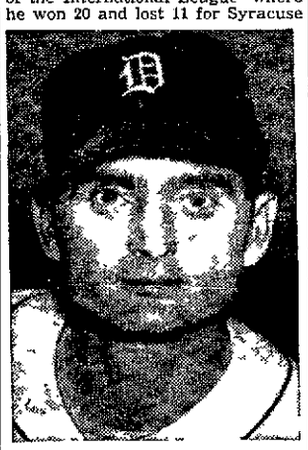

The Cubs got 10 hits off Murry Dickson but failed to convert them into a single run in their first game loss to Philadelphia In the nightcap the Phillies won a battle of home runs Willie Jones hit a pair and Bobby Morgan Stan Lopata and Granny Hamner got one apiece Joe Garagiola and Bill Serena both pinch hitters, homered for Chicago

The Redlegs beat Pittsburgh on bases empty homers Joe Nuxhall got one in the third Gus Bell one in the sixth and one in the eighth and Jim Greengrass one in the ninth

Bob Porterfield of the Senators gave up only four hits but Cleveland got the only run of the game when Vic Wertz singled and scored on a single by Dave Philley and an error by Eddie Yost

Boston's winning run against Baltimore came in the ninth on a triple by Sammy White after Jackie Jensen had singled

A three run double by Yogi Berra and Eddie Robinson's first home run since joining the Yankees led to Detroit's defeat

Golf Play Double '53 Play-Leacox

★ ★ ★ ★

By FRANK RALL
United Press Sports Writer

If you hear more folks worrying out loud about their golf game, nowadays, it's not because they are having more trouble hitting that elusive target.

It's because there are more golfers A veteran of 30 years on the greens, Bob Leacox, Kansas City, Mo, said Thursday interest in the sport is "at least double last year"

Leacox recently was named to the new post of "co-ordinator of schedules" for the Professional Golfers' Association of America

* * *

HERE FOR the Swingfest tournament at the Lincoln Country Club, Leacox said "all private clubs in the country are full," and there are more persons trekking to public courses

As one example of the interest in the sport this year, Leacox said the PGA sponsors about 44 tournaments a year in the country, and—

"We've already had 60 requests" If we could fill them there wouldn't be enough weeks in which to hold the tournaments"

The Kansas Citian has the job of setting up the 1955 PGA tourney schedule

Leacox said "people have more money now, and like the social life and privacy of country clubs" Also a factor possibly is an increased tempo of living, requiring more relaxation

* * *

"A FEW YEARS ago," Leacox said, "we had to beg to get tournaments started"

A lot of the future big golfers are coming from small private clubs, Leacox said He said there are "a lot of wonderful young players" emerging in golf circles now.

"There are a lot of wonderful players on public courses who play for the exercise," he said.

"Golf is a healthful game, good for anyone from 8 to 80," the University of Nebraska graduate said Leacox said the cost of taking up golf can range from virtually nothing to $100 for a good set of clubs

Josy Barthel Leery of Wes

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Olympic champion Josy Barthel of Luxembourg was skeptical of his chances of defeating Wes Santee in their mile race Friday night in Memorial Coliseum

The Olympic 1500 meter champ, who flew in from Boston, said he was behind in his training because of final examinations for a master's degree in sanitary engineering at Harvard

Santee, the 22-year-old Kansan who ran the second fastest mile in history at nearby Compton last Friday night—4 00 6—said "I think I can beat him I'm quite sure he will run at least 4 02 and that I'll have to run under that time to beat him I have great respect for Barthel"

It will be the last race for Santee before going into the Marine Corps June 14 for 12 weeks of summer training

What Makes Pale Hose Run? Not Snags, Ladies, Just Hits

Lincoln Journal-Chicago Daily News Service

CHICAGO — They're hungry. They want to win. And they've got the ability.

That's what makes Chicago's White Sox go.

That's why they're leading the American League.

* * *

IN THOSE WORDS two former managers now on the Sox coaching staff, Marty Marion and Phil Cavarretta as well as the skipper himself, Paul Richards, sum up the fighting spirit that has brought six straight victories.

"I've never seen a team that wanted to win like this one does," said Cavarretta.

"They're not satisfied to win six in a row. They want to win every game. They remind me of the 1935 Cubs. We won 21 in a row at the end of the season and the pennant.

"These fellows help each other out. The pitchers, no matter whether they are starting or relieving, go in with one idea—to win."

"It's a combiation of things that usually wins for you," observed Marion.

* * *

"DESIRE, ability, Minnie Minoso and great pitching—we've all contributed to our success," continued Marion, veteran of championship play with the St. Louis Cardinals.

"Minoso does one of four things every game to help us along. One guy can't do it alone. But these boys take turns picking one another up.

"They're hungry. Few of them have ever been on a pennant team.

"Our pitching has been terrific. We've got a versatile team; that means everybody is hustling for his job. It's a team effort. And it's a club on which all 26 guys are burning with that desire to win, not just one or two or a half dozen.

"You've got to give credit to the manager," Marion added. "He takes the blame when the club loses and the club gets the credit when it wins.

"That's the way it should be. But Paul really knows his job and works at it. He really knows how to handle men."

* *

"I'VE NEVER seen a team with any more desire to win than this one," declared Richards. "But here's one thing. If we had nine Nellie Foxes, the fans would say, 'Look at that Richards. He's really got 'em hustling.'

"That stuff about winning spirit isn't all true. You've got to have the tools, the skills, too.

"We've had great pitching, fine defense, timely hitting. That is, we're getting the big hit, the one that means a game, and more power than we expected. That's the combination.

Minoso, of course, has been the driving force. The "Cuban Comet" leads the league in runs batted in, total bases, runs scored and triples.

But he has had help. The club leads the league with a .269 batting average and has hit 40 homers, almost half as many as they socked all last season. They are also first with 37 stolen bases.

The pitchers pace the league with a 3.05 earned run average per game, with 23 complete games in 51 tries, and with seven shutouts.

In 14 of the 51 games — one was a tie — Sox pitchers have held the opposing team to six hits or less.

Taken all together that's the "go" in the White Sox that adds up to first place with 34 victories—highest in the majors—and 16 defeats.

Griffith Okays 'Heads Off' Yells

WASHINGTON (AP) — Notice to Baltimore Orioles fans: Never mind how you are treated at New York's Yankee Stadium—you can come to Griffith Stadium here and "raise the roof."

That was the word sent out by President Clark Griffith of the Washington Senators in advance of the four-game Senators—Orioles series opening here Friday night. Griffith heard that the New York Yankees wouldn't let Orioles fans bring noise-makers into Yankee Stadium during a recent series.

"Let 'em come here and yell their heads off," said Griffith.

Lou Nova Looks For Charles Win

GROSSINGER, N. Y. (UP)—Former heavyweight challenger Lou Nova predicted Thursday Ezzard Charles will beat Rocky Marciano with left hooks

Nova, of Los Angeles, who was stopped by Joe Louis in the sixth round in 1941, was positive ex-champ Ezzard will be the first man to recapture the heavy crown.

"I don't see how he can miss," said big 37-year-old Lou. "Rocky is wide open to left hooks and Charles is a specialist with that punch. He has much more speed and power in his left than Willie Wilson. And Wilson nails Rocky four or five times in every sparring session.

Wilson is a capable young Negro sparmate from Providence, R. I. He gives the champion his best workouts here in the hangar at Grossinger air strip.

"I've got to pick Charles to win," said the Californian with the brown crew-cut hair. "Ezzard has so many advantages, they have to add up in his favor. He has reach, height, a slight pull in weight, skill, speed and experience. Rocky has advantages only in punch and will to win. But Ezzard will be a very determined man this time. He'll be like the night he fought Louis. It's now or never."

Cubs Smacking Homers

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Cubs are hitting home runs at a record major league pace. The Bruins have hit 71 homers in 49 games, a rate that would give them 223 for the year. The New York Giants set a record of 221 in 1947.

Kilgore Elated Over Slugging TKO Victory

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (UP) — Balding Miami slugger Billy Kilgore, highly elated over Wednesday night's TKO victory over favored Ernie Durando, talked about taking on middle-weight champion Bobo Olson today, but admitted he "may get slaughtered" if he does.

Kilgore, who said before the nationally televised bout he intended to stay away from his opponent and try for a victory on points, crossed up the Bayonne, N. J., fighter with a blistering two-handed onslaught that ended when Durando failed to answer the bell for the final stanza.

Kilgore opened a cut above Durando's left eye with a furious barrage of lefts and rights in the third round. Durando sufferrd two more slashes later and at the end of the fight was almost blinded in one eye by blood.

Proposition 5 Money Maker

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Permits Investing Funds Until Needed

By PHIL WADHAMS
Journal City Hall Reporter
Third in a Series

Proposition No. 5, a conservative money-making plan, proposes that the City Council, subject to approval by the electorate next Tuesday, may invest idle funds in short-time approved securities.

Some concern has been expressed that the public may develop a suspicion that the city's cup of plenty is overflowing, otherwise why the proposal?

The facts are these: the bulk of the city's tax money for covering expenses through the fiscal year, from September to September, is paid during the last three months of the calendar year. For instance, during the current fiscal year, tax payments amounting to 74.27 per cent of the levy were made from Oct. 1 to Jan. 1. In dollars, this amounted to $1,292,000.

EXPENDITURES are fairly uniform, month by month. Some of the tax money paid in the fall and early winter will not be needed until the following summer. The council's idea is to keep the dollars working until needed. Investments may concern 90-day or even 120-day securities drawing interest. The city is now authorized by the charter to invest sinking and trust funds, but this does not include money levied for operation.

At one time, the city received interest on daily balances in local banks. These earnings are no longer available. Funds from the original auditorium bond issue have been invested and reinvested for more than 10 years. As a result, the fund has benefited with the earnings eventually to be used in connection with auditorium construction.

* * *

IT IS NOT suggested that earnings will be big. They should, in the opinion of Council members, be worth while, however. Extent of earnings will be dependent upon security interest. Investments must, of necessity, be for short periods. Language of this proposal:

PROPOSITION NO. 5
"A PROPOSITION TO AMEND SECTION 24, OF ARTICLE IX OF THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

"Section 24. The City Council shall have the power and authority to invest and reinvest all idle funds, including but not limited to current tax receipts, for such period of time as such funds are not immediately needed, in evidences of indebtedness of the United States government, agencies thereof, the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, and the School District in the City of Lincoln in the County of Lancaster in the State of Nebraska."

Said Section 24 of Article IX of the Charter of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, as now existing, be and it hereby is repealed.

Kimball Pipe Line Being Extended

KIMBALL (AP)—Pure Transportation Co., a subsidiary of Pure Oil Co., has begun work on an extension of its 8-inch pipe line from the Smith-Enders Field about seven miles south of here to the Long Field about 18 miles southeast of here.

This extension will link the Long Field with the Platte Valley Pipe Line which the Smith-Enders line joins at Gurley. The present line is 45 miles long.

The Long Field, which straddles the Nebraska-Colorado line, has about 34 producing wells at present, most of them on the Nebraska side.

The allowable capacity of the Smith-Enders this month was boosted from about 10,000 barrels daily to 14,000 barrels from Kimball and Banner County wells. The line has an actual capacity of about 25,000 barrels.

Absentee Voter Right Is at Stake

Proposition No. 6 on Tuesday's city election ballot is purely corrective and is intended to protect the rights of the absentee voter.

When the present charter provision that the first meeting of the City Council shall be held on the first Monday after election was written, current election law as to the absentee voter was not on the books.

As explained by Election Commissioner Harold Gillett, election results cannot be certified until 10 days after election. This period is allowed to permit return and tabulation of absentee ballots. In the case of a close contest, the wrong candidate might get in.

* * *

"IT WOULD NOT be consistent," said Gillett, "to tell the absentee he can vote, yet, at the same time, rule that his vote will not count in general results."

The amendment merely provides that the first regular Council meeting shall be held on the second Monday after election. This is the only change in the section.

At the last general city election, Council members voluntarily waited until the second Monday. They did not want any question raised as to regularity of procedure with a $6 million water bond issue involved.

WORDING of the proposition:
PROPOSITION NO. 6
"A PROPOSITION TO AMEND ARTICLE IV, SECTION 11, OF THE CHARTER OF THE CITY OF LINCOLN, NEBRASKA, TO READ AS FOLLOWS:

"Section 11. The first meeting of the City Council shall be held on the second Monday after the election of such councilmen, and thereafter the regular meetings of such Council shall be held at least once in each week, and upon such day and hour as the Council may designate. Special meetings of the City Council may be called from time to time by the mayor or two councilmen, giving notice in such manner as may be prescribed by the City Council. A majority of the City Council shall constitute a quorum for the transaction of any business, but it shall require a majority vote of the whole Council to pass any measure or transact any business."

Said section 11 of Article IV of the Charter of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska, as now existing, be and it hereby is repealed.

'No' to Paddock Appeal

BEATRICE—The Gage County Board of Equalization has rejected an appeal by the Homestead Hotel Company, operators of the Paddock Hotel asking for a $61,340 deduction in its evaluation. They said the reduction would put the evaluation in line with the purchase price.

Ord-Sargent Road Work

Special to The Journal

ORD—The road between Ord and Sargent was closed as an $80,000 road improvement project began on a six mile strip. Three bridges are to be constructed wider than the present bridges. Hills will be cut down and the roadbed straightened and widened. The project will be completed by early fall.

Bonds Nos. 336 to 1500 inclusive, maturing on July 1, of each of the years 1960 to 1974, inclusive, shall be redeemable, prior to maturity, as a whole or in part at the option of the City at any time on or after five years from date. If less than all of the bonds numbered 336 to 1500 inclusive, are to be redeemed at any time, the bonds to be redeemed shall be selected by lot in any usual manner. Principal and interest will be payable at the office of the County Treasurer of Lancaster County, at Lincoln, Nebraska.

Said bonds were authorized to be issued by said city pursuant to a charter amendment approved by the voters of said City at an election held in and for said City on May 3, 1949, for the purpose of building and equipping a city auditorium.

Said bonds will be general obligations of the City payable from advalorem taxes levied upon all the taxable property in said city without limitation as to rate or amount. The assessed valuation of taxable property in the city for the year 1953 as equalized and determined is $135,901,747.00. The total aggregate indebtedness of the city of every kind and character whatsoever will be after the issuance of these bonds, $3,460,805.00 of which $1,165,805 is special assessment bonds. The population of the City is approximately 110,000.

Bids must be for all and not a part of said bonds, and said bonds will be awarded to a responsible bidder on the basis of the lowest interest cost to the city, but no bid will be considered providing for more than four interest rates and each interest rate shall be in multiple of one-fourth of one per cent or one tenth of one per cent. All bonds of the same maturity shall bear interest at the same rate and no bid will be considered for less than par or bearing interest at a greater rate than three per cent (3%) per annum. In determining the best bid, the interest cost to the city will be computed by determining the interest from July 1, 1954 to absolute maturity of the bonds at the rate or rates specified by the bidder after deducting therefrom any premium offered.

Bids will be opened at a meeting of the City Council of said city held in Lincoln, Nebraska, at 10:00 o'clock A.M. on Monday, July 12, 1954, at which time, and place, bids will be publicly read and the award made to the successful bidder.

Said bonds will be delivered with the unqualified approving opinion of Chapman and Cutler, Attorneys, Chicago, Illinois, and said opinion is to be paid for by the said city, the printed bonds to be supplied by the successful bidder, and all bids must be so conditioned. Each bid must be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check drawn on a state or national bank and made payable to Frank J. Miller, City Treasurer, in the sum of $30,000.00, as a guarantee of good faith and for security for the performance of such bid and as liquidated damages in case the successful bidder fails to take up and pay for the bonds.

All proposals shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, marked on ... "PROPOSAL FOR ... BONDS," ... addressed to Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk, at the City Hall in the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

The City reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of the City Council of the City of Lincoln, Nebraska.

Dated this 1st day of June, 1954.
Theo. H. Berg, City Clerk.

School Merger Study Planned

HOLDREGE (AP)—The Phelps County Committee for School District Reorganization has voted to send a 16-school district merger proposal to the state committee in Lincoln for study and recommendation.

Two hundred persons attended a public hearing on the proposal which would merge 15 rural districts with the Holdrege city district. Mapped by the Holdrege board of education, the plan has drawn opposition in rural areas.

Opponents want to construct two classroom schools in rural areas for elementary pupils and avoid consolidation with the city district.

Sunday School Lesson

Present-day Liquor Problem Alarms National Leaders

The Sunday School Lesson for June 13, is, "Amos Denounces Intemperance." Amos 2:11-12; 4:1-2; 6:1-7.

By EARL L. DOUGLASS

There is a wide variety of opinion regarding the nature of the liquor problem and the best way to solve it, but there is almost complete unanimity of opinion that the problem is indeed a serious one. Leaders in all fields are genuinely alarmed. The 7 million alcoholics and near-alcoholics (problem drinkers) constitute a social problem of menacing character.

Yet automobile accidents are caused not by drunken drivers but by drinking drivers.

Were it not for the fact that drinking has been sanctioned by long social custom, is associated with gaiety and extolled in poetry and song, the human race would long ago have abolished customs which cause as much misery, suffering, and evil as drinking customs have through the ages.

* * *

THE PROPHET Amos, one of the greatest temperance reformers of all time, said that drinking was destroying the northern kingdom. When in 721 B.C. the 10 northern tribes of Hebrews were carried off into captivity, their national—and racial—existence was at an end.

In the temperance lesson today, Amos makes the observation that in Samaria women often led in the drinking bouts, urging their husbands on to excesses.

Within a generation after Amos sounded his warning, these people were dying along the roadside in the long trek to captivity or were standing on the auction block and being sold into servitude.

* * *

WHEN PROHIBITION was repealed, there were great promises of basic reforms. First there would never be any more saloons. However, nothing was changed but the name. Again, people conceived the strange notion that by bringing liquor into the home they could somehow bless drinking and hold in restraint a habit which tended to get out of hand in public places. To be sure the overwhelming majority of all drinkers drink temperately. But probably one out of 10 young people who start to drink ends up as a hopeless drunkard.

To say this is not to indict the good intentions of many modern persons who entertain liberal ideas on the drinking question; but the history of the human race proves that some the most disastrous ideas have been held by well-intentioned people.

Bourret Enters Governor Race

KIMBALL (AP)—James L. Bourret, Kimball hardware and gas dealer, and former vocational agriculture teacher, has paid his filing fee for the Republican nomination for governor.

Bourret said he was "tired of everyone in politics talking about doing things but getting nothing done." This is his first venture into politics.

Bourret said he seeks in particular an equitable tax plan. The personal property tax is too high, now, he said. Bourret did not indicate whether he favors a sales or income tax, but indicated one or the other or both may come in time.

Columbus Firm Starts Producing Canned Pop

COLUMBUS (AP) — Nebraska's newest industry began operations, producing an old familiar drink in a brand new package.

Gov. Robert Crosby will welcome the firm to Nebraska at a dinner in Omaha's Blackstone Hotel. Among those present will be W. D. Aitken, president of Mission Dry Corp., Los Angeles.
